

Literacy and Numeracy

At Seaton Park Primary School, all aspects of literacy and numeracy instruction remain the focus to our teaching and learning.

Literacy is the ability to read and write, as well as being able to think critically and creatively, listen openly and speak confidently when presenting.

Numeracy means being able to reason with numbers and other mathematical concepts and apply these in a range of contexts so students discover the best way to solve mathematical problems.

We use a range of departmental and school based assessments to develop explicit and targeted programmes to support all students' improvement of literacy and numeracy.

Teachers participate in ongoing professional learning to improve their knowledge, skills and understanding of best practice.
